

Standalone Application Chart

The following chart contains examples of applications that may be submitted to determine an individual's initial eligibility, and the type of permission that is contained on the application. An application is considered valid if it contains the applicant's name, address, and a proper signature (477 NAC 3-005.03).

* The worker can attempt to make a call out to the household and obtain their attested resources. AVS consent for the applicant and spouse (as applicable), can also be obtained verbally by using the Consent Line. These steps must be taken prior to sending an MILTC-63. If information is obtained via phone call the MILTC-63 does not need to be sent.

Additional Applications/Forms:

- The MILTC-51 (Extra Persons) needs to be given if the household is completing an MILTC-53 and there are more than two people in the household. One MILTC-51 form needs to be given for each additional person in the household.
- The MILTC-63 (Supplemental Application) may be used, if required, in conjunction with the MILTC-53, MILTC-64, HCMP, Phone/Online, LIS applications and renewal forms to obtain resource information and AVS consent if none are present. The MILTC-63 is not a standalone application.
- The MLTC-45 (Non-Applicant Spousal Consent) form would need to be sent to capture AVS consent of a non-applicant spouse if they failed to sign the MILTC-64 or renewal form. The MLTC-45 is not used to capture AVS consent for the applicant.
